UK Outlook for Monday 23 Aug 2021 to Monday 6 Sep 2021:
Although confidence is very low through this period, a general trend towards more settled conditions is likely. Somewhat unsettled and changeable conditions are most likely to remain in place at the start of the period, with these looking to give way to more settled, drier conditions by the end. Temperatures are likely to be above average, with the potential for hotter weather later in the month.
